Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) Form

You may be able to fulfill some elective courses by going through the PLA process. In order to be eligible for PLA credits, you must be an enrolled student who has already been accepted into a program. In addition, you must have submitted your transcripts to the University and you must have remaining elective credits required to earn your credential or certificate. Professional training, such as seminars and courses provided by programs may be eligible for PLA. Licenses, certificates and transcripts from colleges and institutions may also be eligible. Certain types of experience may be eligible through writing an experiential learning essay. Credential or certificate students can earn up to 20 PLA credits (10 for professional training and 10 for Experiential Essay).
